

2010 Summer Solstice Celebration

Friday, June 18, 2010 3:00-5:00 PM Discussion Group
Saturday, June 19, 2010 12:00 Noon – 10:00 PM Picnic & Celebration

“Recognizing Our Place in the Woven Fabric of Life”

Within the context of a serene natural setting, our expressions of friendship and fellowship will lead us toward a renewed value of our connection to one another and the creation to which we belong.

The celebration of our connectedness will play out with wholesome food, clean swimming, nature walks, reflective gardens, and will be highlighted by a late evening bonfire.

Our host, Stephen Redding, will offer two discussion groups during the solstice weekend:

- Friday, June 18, 2010 (3:00 – 5:00 PM) Stephen will discuss how the “journey of life” perspective influences how we see ourselves within existence, and how our place in this existence may influence what might be next for us.
- Saturday, June 19, 2010 (mid-afternoon during the picnic) Stephen will reflect upon and speak to bringing illumination into our lives. ie. When the light of life presents itself to us, are we open to receive its gift of seeing?

Location: Happy Tree

Home of Stephen & Kathy Redding & Family
126 Reller Road
Green Lane, PA 18054

We will provide wholesome, organic meats grilled to perfection by our host. Covered dish contributions will be accepted, as will donations to help offset cost. Please RSVP so we know how many people to expect. Space available in the Friday afternoon discussion group may be limited. Attendance at Saturday’s main event will be limited to 100 guests.

For questions or to RSVP call 215-257-7650, or email to info@stephenredding.com.

For updated information as the date gets closer go to www.stephenredding.com.